

ZOOM MEETING
Thursday, 3rd September 2020
5:00 pm – 6:30 pm

COVID-19 has had a significant impact on the (re)insurance industry. Large losses, hardened markets, changes in cover, working from home, home schooling and higher levels of stress and anxiety may be affecting you, your team and your organisation. This significant challenge we face means there's an even greater need for diversity of thought, innovation, intelligent leadership, long-term resilience and well-being.

During this talk, executive coaches Kerry Dudley and Henny Flynn will share:

- Why a deep understanding of motivation is so essential during this crisis and how it correlates with performance
- How you can make the most of what motivates you and your team
- How motivation drives business performance through personal fulfilment, deeper engagement and better well-being

We do hope you can join us for what promises to be a really fascinating 90 minutes.

Please register your interest via email to patricia@the-net-work-meetings.com The link to the meeting will be sent to those registered nearer the date.

Sara has been a member of TWIN since 2014 and has been a regular attendee. She Chaired our May meeting last year and has kindly agreed to moderate this session. Sara specialises in helping businesses close the gap between ‘front end’ commercial ambition and regulatory and legal requirements. Her detailed understanding of market dynamics and of the current market conditions facing businesses allows her to look ahead and anticipate problems and issues which an organisation may face further down the track. Sara set up GreenKite in 2019 with a team of other experienced financial services professionals. She has been working within the financial services industry since 2001.

Kerry has worked in the global reinsurance industry for over 20 years. During this time, she had leadership responsibility for specific international territories, business strategy, teams and projects. She also actively collaborated with external partners, academics and committees to improve knowledge and education across the industry. As an executive coach who is passionate about gender parity, Kerry now works with emerging and current female leaders in (re)insurance who want to enhance their performance and professional growth. Kerry is affiliated with the Association of Coaching (AC), The International Coaching Federation (ICF), the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD) and is a licensed practitioner of Motivational Maps.

Henny’s corporate career has spanned HR, marketing communications and consultancy, with start-ups through to multi-nationals. She has sat on boards, managed extensive teams and led £multi-million brand change programmes. Prior to training as a business and personal coach, she spent ten years in educational publishing, in the UK and overseas followed by 20 years in insurance, both within brokerages and global insurers. Henny combines practical expertise with compassion for every individual and respect for the collective wisdom of a group. She is an Associate Certified Coach (ACC) of the ICF a practiced facilitator and trained in Systemic and Constellation Coaching.
